TWO TYPES OF MODELING

- 1. Project-Level Financial Model Outlines Investment Needed and Cash Flows to State Over Life of Project
  - Overall scenario/approach comparison
  - ROI to State over long term
  - Holistic view of project

2. Phase One Pro Forma – Focuses Only On First Phase of Activity Described in RFQ/P

- Adapts project-level model to show the developer's returns on individual projects within plan
- Allows for scenario testing land value approaches from RFQ/P
- Demonstrates building-level feasibility specific to proposed plan and compares to infrastructure cost necessary to deliver
- Shows State investment compared to cash flow for Phase One

KEY VARIABLES:

- Transaction structure
- Infrastructure costs & allocation
- Funding/financing strategies
- Mix of uses and product types ——
- Land value by product type/phase
- Project phasing
- Project enhancements

METHODOLOGY

REAL ESTATE ADVISORS

PHASE ONE PRO FORMA

FIRST PHASE OF LARGE PROJECTS ALWAYS THE HARDEST TO "PENCIL"

- Greatest amount of infrastructure to get started (later phases more incremental)
- Often a choice between making decisions that build value for overall project and decisions that create immediate cash flow/highest value today

Please note the phase 1 boundary and conceptual site plan continue to be refined and this is not a final concept
